The challenge the photo hunt provides and the thrill of discovery makes photography a real adventure. Getting off the beaten trail to discover rarely seen, overlooked, and/or unappreciated sites to capture designs and beauties of the world large and small is an absolute delight.

Photography also provides an opportunity to enjoy the peacefulness of nature as well as a greater awareness of unusual perspectives.

Weather provides many unique threats to the photographer, which calls to your sense of humor and when overcome give a greater sense of satisfaction and deeper admiration for the patterns of nature.

It is rewarding to share photographic discoveries with others and to name the photos so they will bring a smile to viewers faces.
